J. B. Sparrow Factory, Superior Motor Company's Plant, 7 Cars and 200,000 Pounds of Leaf Consumed.

(Special to The Bee.)
MARTINSVILLE, April 25.—The fire which broke out at 1:15 a. m. this morning in the garage of the Superior Motor Company on the west side of Franklin street destroyed that building and seven cars, spread to the J. B. Sparrow tobacco factory, used as a storage house, which was gutted and fell in. The total loss is estimated at $40,000. The insurance is roughly estimated, being less than fifty per cent. The fire assumed alarming proportions at one time but the firemen with the aid of many volunteers were successful in confining the blaze to the two buildings.
The origin of the fire is not known. Probably it started from a short circuit in one of the seven cars stored in the garage which was owned by J. M. Bonduant. In any event the structure was wrecked in flames when the first alarm was sounded and they readily spread to the brick factory which soon went up in smoke. In the factory was nearly a quarter of a million pounds of tobacco belonging to J. B. Sparrow personally. The loss in tobacco alone is estimated at about $20,000 and the building being valued conservatively at $12,000. The garage was valued at about $5,000. Seven cars held for storage in the garage carried an aggregate insurance of about $5,000 which will not cover this loss.

President Returns to Washington Ready to Continue His Work Looking to U. S. Participation in World Court.

New York Police Move to Check Mania for Dancing

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Having placed before the country his reasons for advocating American participation in the international court, President Harding returned to his desk today prepared to argue out the differences over the issue which have arisen among Republican leaders. Sumner, chief of the idea, while regarding the President's address in New York at the lunch of the Associated Press was regarded as an unqualified reaffirmation of his stand in favor of the membership proposal he had before the Senate of the last session.
Senators and others who have opposed it have been in conference here for some days and it was not until today that an opportunity would be found soon to make known clearly to the country the reasons on which objections are based.
Meanwhile all the leaders were sparring in their predictions of just what the determination of the administration would mean in the end. The phyllophony of the address and were unwilling to express an opinion until advising themselves more fully.
The President's appointment list for the day made it thought most of the expected conferences over the court issue would be postponed until later.

Girl Judge Has Sentenced 25 To Die Since February

Is Not Disturbed or Troubled by Conscience—Says Individual Lives Are Not Considered When Crimes Against the State Are Involved.

(By The Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, April 25.—Citizens Anna Gluzman, the 25-year-old judge of the Moscow court who a few days ago sentenced seven men to death for robbery informed the Associated Press that she had imposed the death penalty on 25 persons since February and had not lost any sleep or been troubled by her conscience. Asked how, as a woman, she felt when doomed men were shot, she replied that the question of individual lives could have no consideration when crimes against the state were involved. She would administer justice according to the law of evidence though she tried to temper her decisions with mercy when possible. With a cigarette held firmly between her lips and the fire of an enlivened light in her eyes, the girl judge told of her court experiences. She is slim and short but no pretty. Her brown hair is bobbed on the side and parted like a man's. Her jaw is stern. Dressed as she was today, she might have passed as a typical woman court clerk. "Since February I have sentenced 25 or 30 cases mostly for banditry," she said. She paused a moment to consider when asked how many persons she had sentenced to death and answered, "I think about 25 since February. I have sentenced a woman convicted last Thursday of assisting a gang of robbers."

Kla Is Sued By Erlanger

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Abraham L. Erlanger, testifying today in a $270,000 accounting suit he had brought against Mare Klaw, declared that the famous theatrical partnership had been dissolved because Klaw had played hooky in Europe.
The break, for years a mystery to Broadway, developed after Erlanger had protested in 1903 against his partner's announced intention to spend five or six months each year abroad.
Examining Mr. Erlanger, Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., brought out that the partnership had been formed in 1888, fifteen years before Erlanger informed Klaw that he faced three alternatives, to put up $150,000 more capital to match his, to pay five per cent. interest on his excess investment, or to dissolve the partnership in a friendly manner.
Erlanger said Klaw had chosen the second, finally, however, the partners had decided to part.
"Klaw knew nothing about the booking business and he doesn't know anything yet," Erlanger told the court. After the witness had testified to a disagreement in 1918, Mr. Hughes asked why he had not insisted on dissolution when the original contract expired.
"Well, I don't know myself why I ever stood for Mr. Klaw and his family affairs playing hooky on me," replied Mr. Erlanger. He was a shrewd business man, though he knew nothing about booking or the theatrical business.
"Why did you go into partnership with him then?"
"I don't know why I was such a sucker. You know Barnum is dead and Bailey is dead, but Danum and Bailey's show is still going on. Alexander and Gheen are both dead, but their law business is going on. You see, I had established a trade mark, 'Klaw and Erlanger.' If it wasn't for Mr. Klaw's son, we'd have been going on yet."
Reference to the younger Klaw was explained at today's hearing.
Will you describe the booking business for us?" asked Mr. Hughes.
"I will not," was the answer.
"It would take me two days to do it and after I go through it, you wouldn't know anything about it."

Chicago Has No Dirt of Salesmen

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, April 24.—Salesmanship of nearly every breed and complexion imaginable is rampant in Chicago. The city may seriously lay claim to being the capital of American salesmen.
Each week develops one with a new wrinkle. The one with the freshest bag of tricks has performed a coup that daily excites breathless admiration from the thousands of his ilk who sell him performance downtown.
This salesman is peddling polish for motor car bodies. He spreads his stuff and his polish on Madison street, near the Northwestern Railroad Station, which is traveled by commuters in the morning and evening by commuters.
Everyone knows that most suburbanites own or hope to own automobiles. They know, too, that many suburbs are dusty roads where the cars are not muddy.
The underprising polish peddler selects the mudiest or dustiest automobile that he can find. Then he polishes part of it—never all of it. There's the trick.
The surprised owner, finding his car gleaming in part like a gaudy circus wagon and dull most all over where there was no polish, either must buy a bottle of the wonder polish or have the car polished by a man wearing a new shoe and an old one.
The polish, whatever it be, does what he says it will. It makes the painted work fairly brilliant. It is so lasting that the salesman knocks the hot ashes from countless cigarettes he smokes onto the surface to show that it will not disappear.
There is another salesman—an aged, bearded individual who offers books. He is in the downtown office buildings, discoursing on the wonders of "a education" and never selling a book. He seems not to care to his principal mission apparently being to deliver his set speech and then go on to say that he is quite as good as anything heard in the Senate. It goes like this:
"Hey, mister! Wanna buy a swell set of the classics? Well, now I'm showing 'em to you. Only take a minute. You want to remember that there's where is antiquity's most valuable leaver and the swiftest we can bequeath to the future."
Just a few minutes a day with these wonderful volumes will polish up your fellow's decision making and, besides, give him a education he can't get in school. Besides, they are all morocco bound, and you can turn them for two bucks down and a dollar a week. No?
"The classics" always is said in French surprise.

AUCTION MEN GOT VAST BULK OF NORTH CAROLINA'S TOBACCO CROP

RALPH, N. C., April 25.—Tobacco production and sales for North Carolina during the past year season amounted to 226,000,000 pounds, as reported by auction warehouses, and 55,000,000 pounds delivered, filed by the co-operative associations. Approximately 1,000,000 pounds of North Carolina tobacco sold outside the state in excess of that reported. The total farmers' tobacco production as shown in these figures, was about 270,000,000 pounds.
This official announcement was made today by Frank Parker, North Carolina and United States Department of Agriculture, economist. The complete figures for the 1921-22 season are:
In 1921, 270,000,000 pounds were sold. The production was 270,000,000 pounds of farmers' tobacco. The 1922 production was 270,000,000 pounds more than the past year's total.
The average season's price received by the farmers in 1922 was approximately $27.75 per hundred pounds, based on averages reported by the auction warehouses. Parker's report is that about $25.00 per hundred pounds was received by the farmers in 1921, as compared with $23.54 for the previous season. Winslow, 161 pounds total sales, including 28,000 pounds of the farmers' crop, sold at $24.51, as compared with $23.54 for the previous season. Winslow's sales were second with $23,630,415, including 27,341,103 pounds of first made hand sales. Their average price paid was $26.57, as compared with $24.39 for the previous season.

Alleged Car Thief Reported Ready to Throw Himself on Mercy of Court—State May Ask 10-Year Term.

Dennis Jennings, alleged automobile thief held in Henrico county jail for the Danville authorities, will plead guilty to the charge of stealing Alec Koon's car from Davidson College, N. C. when he is arraigned in the corporation court here on May 7th, the date set for his hearing.
Jennings has informed the commonwealth's attorney that he desires to enter a plea of guilty and will not contest the case, this having been done through Jennings' attorneys who were retained soon after he was placed in jail near Richmond. Commonwealth's Attorney Carter has tentatively decided to ask the court to impose a term of ten years in the penitentiary as punishment upon the plea of guilty being entered, though this has not been definitely decided on.
It is also understood that Jennings has shown a disposition to assist state officers in clearing up the mystery in the disappearance of other cars.
Statements made by Jennings since his capture lead to the belief that additional indictments will be asked for by the next grand jury which meets here on the opening day of court.
Upon arraignment it is likely that Jennings will be given an opportunity to tell his story. It is usual for the court in accepting pleas of guilt to hear a resume of the state's evidence against the man in order to determine the degree of guilt. Jennings is reported to be anxious to leave Henrico and come to Danville and to dispose of the court order as rapidly as possible. Notwithstanding the reported desire of Jennings to throw himself on the mercy of the court the state will have witnesses here and will be prepared to go into a trial should there be an eleventh hour decision to fight the charge. It is reported that there are almost one hundred warrants and indictments against Jennings in the states of Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia.

Police Chief and 2 Others Face Nine Charges—Two Women Were Whipped by Masked Men.

(By The Associated Press.)

The men were said by Mrs. Watson to have whipped her twice because of alleged improper treatment accorded her husband while he was ill.

Fear from alleged threats the boy's mother told authorities she had never dared to reveal to any one the story of her son's imprisonment.
A delivery boy first learned of the incident. He reported it to police who made the investigation. They found hand sales. Their average price paid was $26.57, as compared with $24.39 for the previous season.

Ben Coleman Is Sued In Winston For False Arrest

(Special To The Register)
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., April 24.—In what attorneys claim is another case of "Too much meddling by detectives" a suit has been instituted in the Forsyth county superior court by Paul Meunier, plaintiff, through his attorneys, John D. Slaworsky, Shantz, Groves, Brock and Graves, against Ben C. Coleman and John Carter, said to be detectives, for damages to the extent of $52,000.

Paragraph two of the complaint follows:

"That on the 28th day of March, 1923, this plaintiff was in the city of Lynchburg, Va., when approached by the defendants, who took him into custody and arrested and proceeded to take this plaintiff to city police station in Lynchburg, Va., where they kept him locked in a cell from 12 o'clock noon on the 28th until midnight of the same day."

The complaint further alleges that plaintiff was then taken to Richmond where he was kept in jail for three days. It is also alleged that defendants willfully took plaintiff into custody without due process of law and that he was unlawfully imprisoned.

Attorneys for Meunier say that the two detectives have since left Winston-Salem and that Coleman and Carter were not here to answer to warrants of bail and arrest.

Mr. Coleman was asked about the matter last night and he stated that the whole case is a frame-up to get him out of North Carolina, where he would be a witness against ex-Detective John B. McCrea, and Clyde Johnson arrested last week in Winston-Salem for theft of cars. The case against the two men was worked up by Coleman and Carter.

Mr. Coleman stated that while he was in Winston-Salem last week he had been tipped off that he would be placed in jail and held for a bond of $15,000 for appearance in a civil action which would be brought against him. The tip was sufficient for Mr. Coleman. He left immediately for Danville.

Sheriff John B. McCrea, of Forsyth county, was asked over long distance telephone last night in regard to the matter. He was silent in all the tongues of Dabel. He would neither confirm nor deny, suggesting, however, that Mr. Coleman might be interviewed.

It is understood that the states of Virginia and North Carolina are co-operating in the matter of running to earth car thieves, which explains Mr. Coleman's presence and activities in the Tar Heel State. As he is a witness in the case against Flynn and Johnson, it is very probable that some adjustment of the case will be made so that he can return to North Carolina to testify.

Red Tape Threatens to Rend Family

(Special To The Bee.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Official wheels in Washington, grinding systematically, have sent forth an order which, if Congress does not act, will destroy a home here and separate three children from their aunt—the only "mother" they ever have known.

For it has been ruled by the department of immigration that Miss Francesca Guglielmino, native of Catania, Sicily, must return there unless she is married or can read and write before the first of the coming year.

"But how can I learn to read and write so quickly?" asks Miss Guglielmino in her native Italian, while "her children" pull at her skirts. "I am old, 60 I am, and cannot learn as readily as one younger."

"If I study who will care for the children? All day long I am busy with them. I have no time; I cannot neglect the bambino."

"No, I will not marry. Many have written me asking I marry them. When I was a girl in Sicily, many asked me to marry I would not then, nor will I now. I live for the children."

Miss Guglielmino lives here with her brother, Salvatore Guglielmino, a broker. The children are his. His wife died last May. In the same month his mother, with whom Miss Guglielmino then lived, died in Catania.

Guglielmino cabled for his sister to come. She got as far as Ellis Island. There she was stopped for illiteracy. Friends interceded and she was allowed to enter America for six months.

Just before the six-month period expired, the time was extended.

But now, the immigration authorities have ruled that she must return the first of the year.

It is toward Congress that the Guglielminos look. Friends have told them Congress can pass a special legislation which would nullify the immigration department's ruling. And—

"I do not believe they will make me go from my home and my children," says Miss Guglielmino. "Everywhere this country is known as the great America that is so kind to unhappy people. Why then, should they wish to make us unhappy?"

FRANCESCA GUGLIELMINO (INSET) AND ONE OF CHILDREN SHE HOPES TO BE ALLOWED TO STAY IN AMERICA TO "MOTHER."

SHANER WILL BE GROOMED FOR SECOND BASE

Apparently Dedeker Shaner, the ex-Danville rightfielder, who is in the Cleveland American League, squad, is keeping his mouth to himself in an effort to let Manager Speaker find out about what he can do without persan-assistance.

After awhile this Speaker is going to bump the big Lynchburger over to second sack and then he will open his eyes, Danville fans think.

Here's what the Cleveland Plain Dealer had to say about the way Shaner looked at the keystone position a few days ago.

"The Speaker discovered yesterday that when he bought Dedeker (Shaner) Shaner from New Orleans, he not only procured a promising outfielder, but also a second sacker of sensational possibilities."

"It develops that Shaner never played the outfield until he went into professional ball last summer with the Danville club of the Piedmont League. Previous to that he had been star second baseman of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at Blacksburg, Virginia."

Shaner worked out around second during the Indians' practice yesterday and scooped grounders over in all positions. Some of the veterans declared he reminded them of Nap Lajoie in his movements. Young Mr. Shaner now will be groomed as an infielder as well as a gardenier.

NEW REGISTER BUILDING IS PROGRESSING

After weeks of delay the work on the new Register building is being pushed rapidly. Already the steel frame has been placed on the second story. Inside work also is progressing.

Many people have been heard to comment that the building, when completed will be the handsomest business structure in the city. The terra cotta being used as the outside finish so closely resembles granite that it can hardly be told from that stone. This, the style of architecture and the ornamentation will combine to give the building a most attractive appearance.

The press will be placed as soon as steel frames arrive so that the basement can be entirely enclosed. This is necessary in order to protect the delicate machinery from dust and grime.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

"Did you ever watch the camp fire When the wood has fallen low And the ashes start to whiten 'Round the embers' crimson glow? When the night sounds all around you Making silence doubly sweet, And a full moon high above you That the spell may be complete? Tell me, were you ever nearer To the land of heark's desire Than when you sat there thinking With your feet before the fire?"

The Y. W. C. A. is in happy possession of a summer camp, and it is a anticipation of the joys to come that the above lines are quoted. Ever since the Y. W. C. A. has been organized in Danville, the need of a summer camp has been keenly felt, and is good news that this long felt hope has become a reality, is proving a source of rejoicing among all Y. W. C. A. girls.

Until very recently the Association had visions of having a part in the Community Camp, feeling it indeed a privilege to be a part of this splendid movement. The opportunity, however, came to leave this beautiful spot on the Martinsville Road, known as the "Homestead," and it seemed well for this summer to make use of this opportunity. The camp will be open from June first until September fifteenth, with a camp director in charge, who will plan out the happiest times for the many girls who are eager to enjoy camp life. The real purpose of the camp is to bring together the young women of Danville and those in the nearby towns and cities for healthful recreation and fellowship.

The camp committee, of which Mrs. Stanley Cunningham is chairman met on Monday to discuss equipment and the policy of the camp. The other members of the committee are Mrs. Archibald D. Keen, Mrs. L. D. Crump, Mrs. E. S. Hight, Mrs. Estelle J. Hinchliffe, and Miss Ballantine.

LADY OF THE LAKE AT R. M. I. MAY DAY

An announcement is made that the third and final graduating recital at the Randolph-Macon Institute will be given on Monday, May 14.

It will be of great interest also to note in this connection that the annual May-Day festival and outdoor play will be given on the terrace lawn of the Institute on Monday, May 14.

On that occasion the pupils will present Scott's "The Lady of the Lake" for which they are now making diligent preparation. In this outdoor festival of the music talented readers and expounders of dramatic art, pupils of the music department and the head pupils of the art department will collaborate in working out all the details.

Flyer Is Killed In Plain Crash

(By The Associated Press)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 21.—First Lieutenant Logan H. Arthur, who won the Congressional Distinguished Service Medal for conspicuous service in the world war and who also spent three years with the American forces in Germany following the ending of the war, was instantly killed at Langley Field this morning when a Sperry-Messinger A-1 airplane dropped to the ground in a nose dive from an altitude of more than 200 feet.

Lieutenant Arthur was making a final flight for the day at the flying station and it is not certain whether his engine went "dead," was accidentally cut off or probably purposely cut off by the officer who did not realize that he was so close to the ground at the time.

Immediately after the accident Colonel Charles H. Danforth, commanding officer at Langley Field, named a board of officers to make a searching investigation of the accident and until this board is ready to make its report the official story of the death of the splendid aviator will not be given by the military authorities.

Of the board are Captain R. D. Easterbrook, Lieutenant F. N. Shumaker and Lieutenant Carl A. Couver.

Lieutenant Arthur, who was thirty years old and who was born in Union, S. C., had been a flier for the past six years and had a record of wonderful accomplishment during the war on the French border.

Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning Lieutenant Arthur went to the flying field to make a flight in the clever little messenger plane known officially as the A-1 machine. He started the flight with every appearance of success and had gotten into the air for about 100 feet when those on the flying field saw his machine take a nose dive and drop to the ground. The plane was crushed and when the spectators and soldiers at the field got to the scene of the accident they found that Lieutenant Arthur was dead and that his body was crushed by the fall.

Lieutenant Arthur is survived by his young widow, who was at her home at the time when the accident occurred and his parents who live in Union, S. C. He was a member of a widely prominent South Carolina family. The body of Lieutenant Arthur, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur and Lieutenant and Mrs. H. A. Cooke, will leave Langley Field tomorrow morning for Union, S. C., where the funeral services will be held probably on Friday.

It is likely that Langley Field will send several machines to Union to take part in the funeral services and also to "dip taps" to the dead officer.

Y. Secretary Of China Delivers Interesting Talk

Mr. Thomas T'hou, National Industrial Y. M. C. A. Secretary of China, who spent Monday and Tuesday in Danville and Schoolfield studying the welfare work of the Riverside and Dan River Cotton Mills, left for New York City yesterday evening. Mr. T'hou expressed himself as being very favorably impressed with the welfare work and the "Industrial Democracy System" of the local textile mills. He also spoke very highly of the hospitable treatment accorded him by the citizens of Danville and Schoolfield.

Mr. T'hou delivered two very interesting addresses yesterday. At the morning chapel period of the Danville High School he spoke on "Student Life in China" and at the noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club he spoke on "Old and New China." In each address he stressed the friendly feeling his countrymen have for the United States and the sincere appreciation of his people for all that this country has done for them.

Mr. T'hou stated that China is now experiencing simultaneously the industrial, political, educational, scientific and religious revolutions through which the United States had passed during the past two centuries. Christianity is making steady progress among the Chinese and is giving them the spiritual power to come through this trying era of their national history. He spoke most highly of the splendid work of the missionaries and Y. M. C. A. secretaries in the United States and stated through their efforts native leaders were being developed and the work rapidly extended by them throughout all of China.

The Doctor Was Right

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mighty few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.

Jugoslavia King Fights Hard to Hold His Realm

Separatists Threaten to Split His Nation in Three Parts—Rebels Gain in Strength.

BEGRAD, April 25.—Alexander I. king of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, is going to have the battle of his life holding his kingdom together. In fact the battle has begun. The Croats, Slovenes and Bosnians want autonomy. By autonomy they mean they want all the way from republic to local self-government as individual states in the United States have.

Although the movement for autonomy had independent beginnings in Croatia, Slovenia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, it has now consolidated in a sort of bloc, dangerous to Serb ambitions.

Nobody in Yugoslavia thinks or talks anything else and the government or Premier Pachitch is profoundly disturbed.

For the whole trend of sentiment in the country today is toward breaking up into small self-governing states with but a nominal tie to Belgrade and King Alexander, and away from centralized power.

The leader of the separatists, or those who clamor for autonomy, is a bookseller in Zagreb, named Raditch. You can remember it because it is pronounced almost exactly like the little red vegetable you have on your table these spring days. And you should remember it for it is going to figure in Balkan history if he remains on the scene.

Raditch is the leader of the Croats, and the Croats, who live in modern northwestern Serbia, like most people in this part of the world, are peasants and very close to the soil.

So when not behind the counter of his bookshop in Zagreb, Raditch may be seen dressed in peasant costume—dark, unbrothered stockings and—making speeches to his Croat followers or talking to them in the fields in their own dialect.

Here in Belgrade, Raditch is called a self-seeker; a bag of wind; a charlatan; a demagogue. They say he drives out of Zagreb in a high-powered motor car and changes into peasant costume just before reaching his destination.

In Zagreb they say he is a patriot and very much in earnest. And to prove they really think what they say, the Raditch, or Croat, party in the March elections made terrific gains, dealing a blow to the old Serb, or governing bloc.

The Croats had only 50 deputies in the old parliament out of a total of 417 members. Today they have 70 out of a reduced total of 212.

The radicals—Premier Pachitch's party—and Democrats together had 183 members in the old house. They have but 159 in the new. While the radicals won 16 seats the Democrats lost 49, thanks partly to a bitter fight made on them by the radicals. So it is not expected the parties will work together so well now when so much may depend upon it.

The Slovenes are led by a priest, Father Koroshetz. The Bosnians, who have made common cause with the Croats and Slovenes for political purposes, have 28 members. With the clericals 22 and the others who may be expected to join with them against the government, they form a dangerous bloc.

Religion enters largely into the fight. The Serbs are Greek Orthodox. The Croats and Slovenes are Catholic. According to the latest figures there were 5,460,000 Orthodox and 4,475,000 Roman Catholics, 345,000 Bosnians and about 750,000 others in the country. The Orthodox have not a very great majority—none, if the others unite against them.

Raditch says he is a Republican but is willing for Croatia to remain inside Serbia as now defined, providing she is given full autonomy. He would like a republic in Croatia and a kingdom in Serbia, the two being bound together about as Austria and Hungary formerly were.

Koroshetz would like Slovenia to be a state within a Serbian union.

Good Morning Judge!

Herbert Price alias Herbert Swann, colored, was this morning given hearing on five charges of larceny and held for the grand jury in each case. He is charged with taking clothing, jewelry and money from Bertha Thomas, Victoria Brown, Pearl Terry, Virginia Lipscomb and Maggie Howard. He confessed to all the theft charges but denied that he entered any of the houses by force. He claims to have found the doors unlocked.

Cases against John Lee Anderson and Clarence Douglas, colored, for larceny of $30 from Linwood Gunn, a negro boy, were dismissed. The court concluding that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant conviction.

Linwood Gunn had stolen the money from his father, John Gunn, in Alamogordo. He met up with Douglas and Anderson, and it is alleged, they induced him to turn the money over to them. The boy was tried before Judge Harris in the juvenile court yesterday and ordered sent to the reformatory. It was said. In testifying this morning he denied that the two men took the money from him, claiming that he voluntarily gave them a small amount. Douglas and Anderson also denied they took any of the boy's money.

W. C. T. U. Protests Dancing Craze

(Special to The Bee) RICHMOND, Va., April 25.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union has lodged a protest against the proposed dancing contest to begin here today and to undertake a new record for the country. Chief of Police Sherry says that there is nothing in the law to prevent the dancers undertaking the feat, but that at midnight of Saturday he will close up the establishment.

Six Girls Bitten by Mad Dog Will Get Pasteur Treatment

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Six girls, ranging in age from 7 to 17 years, were bitten by a mad dog when it dashed through the streets at Sharpburg and Eina tonight, creating a reign of terror as it lunged first at one child then at another. One child, Mary Elizabeth Streif, aged 7, was attacked as she was about to enter the Strand theatre, Sharpburg, with her mother and father.

Those bitten were: Mary Elizabeth Streif, aged 7; Sharpsburg; Mary Kozloski, aged 11; 1301 Broadway; aged 17; Mary Karpinski, aged 10; all of Sharpburg; Helen Kozmarzyk, aged 10, and Ruby Juran, aged 11, of Eina.

All of the girls were mangled about the lower limbs by the sharp teeth of the dog. A piece of flesh fully three inches square was torn from the thigh of the Karpinski child. The latter, with the Streif and Kozmarzyk girls, are said tonight to be in a serious condition.

The dog, running amok, dashed into Chestnut street, where a number of children were at play. Frantic mothers in nearby houses quickly notified the police, who hurried to the scene, were unable to use their weapons because of danger of hitting the children, many of whom were cowering in fear on every side.

It escaped out off by a long freight train. Police Lieutenant Williams caught the beast by the collar and aided by others secured him. The animal was taken to the city police station, where it will be examined for symptoms of the rabies. All of the children attacked by the dog will be given the Pasteur treatment at the Mercy Hospital.

Camp Jackson Has Serious Fire

(By The Associated Press) COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 24.—Fire which was declared by Captain John Fawcett, Camp Commander, to have been of incendiary origin, was brought under control at Camp Jackson tonight after eight barracks and nine smaller buildings had been burned. The fire was extinguished by the camp fire department by nearly three hours work.

The buildings were fired in three places, Captain Fawcett said tonight in making his statement that he was convinced that fire bugs had been at work at the camp. The old first lodge hotel, a large two-story structure, was destroyed by fire about ten days ago, and Captain Fawcett said that also was the work of incendiaries. He did not make known the focus upon which he based his conclusion at the time of the first fire.

As a result of the recent fire, Camp Jackson will be completely closed to the public, the camp commander announced tonight. The main thoroughfare, known as the Wild Cat Road after the 81st "Wild Cat" Division which trained at the camp, has been closed for some time by traffic between Columbia and northern points.

The loss caused by the fire will not exceed $200 for each building, Captain Fawcett estimated, except in the case of the hotel, which was valued at $1,200.

Seventeen soldiers detailed as caretakers constitute the garrison at the camp.

Naval Dry Fleet Hits Money Snag

Treasury Officials Announce the Proposed Plan Must Await Funds From Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The plan of the Prohibition Bureau for a campaign against rum runners by fifty or more Eagle boats and submarine chasers of the Navy seems destined to be pigeon-holed until Congress can authorize an expenditure for that purpose.

High officials of the Treasury Department made clear today that there are no more funds for additional prohibition enforcement work but that there is also serious question as to the advantages of the plan. The entire cost from Canada to Mexico is exposed, and it would take a very large force to establish anything like an effective patrol.

For several weeks Treasury officials have been studying possible means of breaking up the rum fleet, but an authoritative spokesman of the department stated today there had been no radical suggestion which had received favorable consideration.

When the problem came before the Cabinet last week, President Harding, it was learned today, called for suggestions and instructed the interested branches of the Treasury Department to work out a plan for suggesting to the navy.

It is the belief at the Treasury Department that funds for a real coast patrol cannot be obtained in any manner until Congress meets. Given enough money, the Treasury feels certain it can erect an effective barrier, but the sum probably would run into fabulous amounts. Reasonable precautions can be taken, it is believed, without throwing a bridge of ships around the entire coast. Officials feel they can make additions to the patrol fleet from time to time as required until the situation will be somewhat under control.

The prohibition unit does not share the view that lack of funds will prevent assignment of the small navy boats to prohibition enforcement work. The attitude there is that the President can act in any emergency, such as war or a crisis in which the law is being violated openly, under the Constitution, and make the necessary outlay of money.

DEFENDS ACTION OF THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 24.—The action of the New York stock exchange in suspending trading in corner stocks was defended today by Jason Westcott, of the Murray Hill club, one of the exchange's most active members. He said he was "amazed to find a considerable body of public opinion and the press applying the earlier action of a corner and denouncing the stock exchange."

"Critics of the exchange," he continued, "should remember that the suspension of trading is to preserve the integrity of the market, made on its honor. These corner stocks are not only sold throughout the country, but are accepted by the investing public as being made in a free and open market, and they reflect the composite opinion of all the people interested in them."

"When, then, for a single instant, has obtained a monopoly, the circulation of the stock market is in substance to be cut off, and the misleading reports, such as the 'anxiety' of the exchange to suspend trading."

DANCER'S COUNSEL CAN SEE RECORD

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Decision of Supreme Justice Segrav at Newburgh, N. Y., allowing counsel for Ivan Burrows, "Oriental dancer and show master," to inspect grand jury minutes with which indictment charging perjury was returned against him, was one known today when the district attorney's records instructed to turn over the minutes to the defense.

The case will use the minutes as a basis for a motion to dismiss the perjury indictment growing out of the dancer's testimony to obtain annulment of his marriage to Sterling Adams. The perjury is "intimate," was returned after the dancer's $1,000,000 breach of promise suit against Cora Vanderbilt Whitney had been dismissed.

LANING, Ind., April 24.—Investigation of the case of Frank Patterson, inmate of Jona reformatory, will be undertaken by the state Governor Grosbeck informed today. Patterson is said to have died from blows inflicted by Leo Rolfe, a prison guard. The governor indicated the inquiry would be to verify the warden's assertion the guard was justified in striking Patterson.

Have accepted the warden's report, the governor said, in which it was stated the guard was attacked by Patterson and other inmates and that he acted in self defense. If an investigation is undertaken it will be for the information of the state and not because of outside influences.

FOILS UNDERTAKER'S PLOT TO COLLECT INSURANCE

(Special to The Bee)
NEW YORK, April 25.—"The skill of the scientific criminal investigator is not always restricted to criminal cases," says Dr. Otto H. Schulze, chief of the New York State Police. "The skill of the scientific criminal investigator is not always restricted to criminal cases," says Dr. Otto H. Schulze, chief of the New York State Police. "The skill of the scientific criminal investigator is not always restricted to criminal cases," says Dr. Otto H. Schulze, chief of the New York State Police.

"One of the most interesting cases I have ever handled was a civil case which contained possible criminal action. A question of identification arose in the refusal of an insurance company to pay a life insurance policy."

"A charred thigh-bone was the most important part of the remains of a man found in the ruins of a burned bungalow."

"An insurance company was notified that this was the body of an undertaker who had been insured for $100,000. The company decided to investigate."

"We learned that one afternoon the undertaker told his partner he was going to his bungalow and would return. The same night from the bungalow he later phoned his partner that he would return all night."

"About 11 p. m. the same night, neighbors discovered that the bungalow was a mass of flames. When scorching parties went through the ruins, the charred remains of the body were discovered. Was it the undertaker's body?"

"I examined the remains and placed together the left thigh-bone from the charred fragments. Now, the thigh-bone of a man is approximately one-fourth the height of the body. But the length of this thigh-bone showed that the deceased was over six feet tall—probably six feet one inch."

"I then examined the papers made out when the undertaker was insured and learned that the policy had been taken out by a man five feet eight inches tall."

"Also, although the surface of the body was roasted and the body cavity had burst, I made a minute examination."

"The first thing I discovered was that the air tubes to the lungs were free from the soot which would have been present had the air in the burning cottage been inhaled."

"The carbon monoxide, a product of imperfect combustion, would also have been present. But in the blood in the central part of the body I found none of this gas. In the blood near the surface, a very little."

"I was able to conclude that carbon monoxide had combined with the blood by external contact and had not been inhaled. In other words, the subject whose remains I was examining was not breathing when the fire broke out."

"THE LENGTH OF THE THIGH BONE SHOWED THAT THE DECEASED WAS OVER SIX FEET TALL."

What, then, if not the fire, had caused death? Under the microscope I saw that the small air tubes in the lungs were filled with pus and that death had been due to the pneumonia or influenza which was raging at that time. This man, therefore, could not have been walking around apparently well, in the hours immediately preceding death."

"Other unusual circumstances developed. The teeth, which could not have been destroyed in the heat of any conflagration, and which are well known as excellent means of identification, could not be found."

"Also, although the fire had taken place in a cottage where everything not destructible could be discovered in the ruins, it was impossible to find pieces of money, a watch, metal buckles or anything of that nature which would normally be present."

"And so I was able to present the insurance company with this conclusion which resulted in their refusal to pay the policy. The body was not that of the insured and, furthermore, it would seem, that in the effort to destroy the identity of the deceased, the insured completely forgot to establish his own."

CONTROVERSY OVER KU KLUX KLAN ENDED

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—Hostilities for control of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan ended today with the signing of an armistice between the opposing factions, William J. Simmons, Emperor and H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard, are retained in their posts under the agreement.

The controversy was brought to a close through the efforts of a committee of Klansmen, aided, it was said, by independent counsel, Arthur G. Powell and Hollins H. Randolph, non-members of the order.

Judge D. D. Tamm, a motion of counsel for both sides, dismissed his order and dissolved the commission of three which had been directing the affairs of the Klan. This commission was composed of Emperor Simmons, Imperial Wizard Evans and George Marshall of the municipal court. The contest originated over the Kamalia, the women's organization, formed and founded by Council Simmons along the lines of the Klan.

According to Fred B. Johnson, who has been acting as chief of staff for Emperor Simmons, the agreement reached with Evans calls for the Imperial Wizard to remove his objections to the Kamalia and to give it the support of the Klan. The Evans' faction, it was understood, will also remove several officials from the Imperial Palace, the Klan headquarters, who are "objectionable" to Emperor Simmons. These were said to be F. L. Savage, chief of staff, N. N. Furney, cashier and C. M. McKinnon, reporter.

Emperor Simmons, on his part, it was declared, agreed to cancel his court action for absolute control of the Klan and work in absolute harmony with Imperial Wizard Evans and both will bend their efforts to establish friendly relations between the factions.

COWS GRAZING ON STREETS OF MUSCLE SHOALS

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Cows were grazing on what had been reported as brick paved streets in glowing advertisements of Muscle Shoals Land Development. George N. Moran, a representative of the Better Business Bureau testified today at a hearing against Howell and Graves, real estate promoters.

Moran described a visit he had paid last near the United States nitrate plant in Alabama last February, when he was accompanied by Postoffice Inspector Sugg.

He testified that in spots designated as streets, were swamps, surrounded by woods. The Wilson Dam highway, the importance of which had been stressed in advertisements, was only an ordinary red clay road of ordinary width, difficult of passage because of mud, Moran testified.

INDIAN CHIEF IS FOUND DEAD

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 24.—Old Posey, renegade Plute Indian chief who was reported to have led the recent uprising of a band of Indians in Southeastern Utah was found dead tonight by federal officers near Comb, Utah, according to a special to the Tribune tonight.

The body was found in a niche in the rocks of a canyon where he is believed to have been shot fatally in a skirmish with white settlers, on or about March 28, according to the dispatch. United States Marshal J. Ray Ward, with several other officers, was led to the body by four of the captured members of Posey's band, it was reported.

SOUTH BOSTON, April 24.—Mayor J. B. Wilborn is believed to have set a new record in this end of the state for liquor law violations. During the fiscal year just closed he convicted 210 persons of violating the state liquor law.

SHIP COMBINE IS REPORTED

(By The Associated Press)
OTTAWA, April 24.—Existence of a shipping combine known as the North Atlantic and United Kingdom conference, with headquarters in New York, was charged in an interim report submitted to Parliament today as a special committee by the House of Commons to investigate the effect of steamship rates on Canadian agriculture.

The report, submitted by the committee chairman, A. R. McMaster, member for Brant, set forth that transportation rates upon regular steamship lines from Canadian ports was termed neither by the law of supply and demand, nor on the basis of cost plus a reasonable profit.

What's Going on in the World
WEEK'S CHIEF EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

By Charles P. Stewart

SEA Staff Writer

THE international dispute the Turks have started—maybe—by granting that concession to Admiral Chester looks bigger every day.

After studying the papers, "The Literary Digest" says:

"America's clash with Great Britain and France will come, not over the Ruhr, but over Turkey; this is the fear of many editors who note the British and French reactions to the Turkish Assembly's ratification of the Chester concession."

The same publication quotes "Paris correspondents" as saying, if the American government backs the concession, "a diplomatic incident of the first importance will result."

The plan of such vast scope that the authority speaks of it as providing for "a second Philippines" in Asiatic Turkey.

Rather Puzzling, What? It's speculation, not the tariff, makes sugar so high, the government has decided.

An injunction against the speculators has been asked. If it sticks, injunctions against speculators in other kinds of food may be sought, too.

The Federal Tariff Commission also has been probing the sugar situation. The commission reports that the duty on sugar has nothing to do with its price. It reports further that sugar consumers are paying the duty. In conclusion the commission reports that it is investigating and hopes, presently, to have something to report.

Pan American Conference. The Pan-American Conference at Santiago, Chile, is wrestling with a proposal to have representatives at future conferences appointed in a new way.

Hitherto their governments have named them. Thus Mexico hasn't had any this time, because her government isn't recognized by the United States. Most Latin Americans want future selections made, somehow, by the countries themselves, not by their governments, so as to let unrecognized republics in. The United States objects. She had one supporter at latest accounts—Brazil. Nobody else.

A scheme for settling international American disputes is being discussed.

Revolt in the Ruhr. Communism is reported to be threatening the entire German region of the Ruhr, which the French seized with a view to making Germany pay war damages to France. At Jülich the rebels gained control of the center of the city, barricaded the streets and there was fighting, in which some lives were lost and minor casualties were numerous. Finally the communists were squelched but further trouble is feared.

The French aren't interfering. If Germany doesn't like such disorders, they say, let her pay up.

Trouble in Italy. Premier Mussolini's Fascist government in Italy is having trouble. The Fascist came into power, virtually by a revolution, as enemies of the regime. Now there's talk of a counter-revolt. Mussolini takes it seriously enough to have forced four of his own cabinet members to quit. He has warned the Fascist that stronger measures than ever are necessary to keep the radicals down.

His supporters are quoted as declaring his overthrow would mean communism.

Business Comes First. Angry as the British government was at the execution of Monsignor Butchkevitch, head of Roman Catholicism in Russia, on a charge of conspiring against soviet rule, it's decided to keep the British trade missions at Petrograd and Moscow. At first the London foreign office planned to break all relations with the Bolsheviks. It changed its mind, upon representations from big business interests that they didn't want to lose Russian trade.

The British House of Commons, by a vote of 236 to 14, killed a prohibition bill introduced by the lone, dry member, Edwin Scrymgeour of Dundee.

Numerous opponents of the measure cited the United States as a "horrible example" of how prohibition works. One member has asserted there were 4,000 more arrests in the 26 leading American cities in 1922 than in 1918.

Right or wrong, an overwhelming majority of members of the Commons accepted these statements and figures as correct.

May Mean Civil War. Sun Yat Sen, southern Chinese leader has sent a note of defiance to the government at Peking, which professes to rule the whole country, but which really hasn't any authority over more than about half of it, north of the Yangtze River.

Many good judges think this note will be the signal for a general civil war.

HOOVER STARTS
A LABOR PROBE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—In an endeavor to establish the economic facts involved in immigration restriction, Secretary Hoover has instituted a Commerce Department inquiry into efficiency of labor.

In announcing his plan today, Mr. Hoover said that since 1914, when immigration practically ceased, individual productivity of workers in the United States had markedly increased. The fairly continuous shortage of labor "put a tremendous impulse behind management for increasing labor efficiency," he said, adding exact data on a large scale as to the results.

"Social considerations involved in the immigration problem far outweigh any economic considerations, or arguments that might be made for allowing unchecked immigration," Secretary Hoover said.

About 95 per cent. of the people in the United States, for sound and sufficient social reasons, favor immigration restrictions but its effect on efficiency of industrial operations ought to be determined and that is what the inquiry is aimed at.

LOAN FOR AUSTRIA.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Part of a huge loan to Austria, totalling $135,000,000 is to be floated in the United States through "one of Wall Street's best known international banking houses," the New York World said today. It would be the first loan to a world war enemy in which this country has participated.

The new loan, according to the World, is part of the League of Nations reconstruction plan for Austria.

CROP INSURANCE FOR THE FARMER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Crop insurance which would protect the farmer against the hazards incident to agriculture, was recommended by Secretary Wallcut today before a special Senate committee.

"I consider it highly desirable," the Agriculture Secretary said, "that some way should be devised by which the farmer could be relieved in part of the hazards of weather over which he has no control. If the risks could be determined so that substantially all of the farmers in the wheat belt participated or all farmers in the corn belt, by way of illustration, I believe an equitable form of insurance would be possible."

"The individual farmer must look to the farmers at large participating in such insurance. Otherwise it would not be practicable. I want to state my opposition to the government going into crop insurance. Mutual associations among the farmers, by which a wide distribution of risks would be obtained, would, in my opinion, be successful."

PAYMENT IS AUTHORIZED (By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A payment of $193,961 to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad Company was authorized to day by the Interstate commerce Commission in final settlement of the account arising between the government and the company from the six months' guarantee of carrying given carriers after federal control. With payments made previous to the one of today, the railroad has received to total $1,532,961 under the guarantee.

UNEMPLOYED CLASHED WITH GERMAN POLICE (By The Associated Press)

ESSEN, April 24.—A mob of unemployed men clashed with the police today at Ekaterinberg, near here, in another outbreak of unrest throughout the Ruhr, which German officials attribute to Communist agitators. One man was killed and one badly wounded.

According to German accounts, several hundred men under Communist leaders attempted to present demands to the city authorities, but the mayor ordered the police to hold them off. The crowd resented the efforts of the police and the collision followed. The men, as in other similar demonstrations had formulated demands for free supplies of potatoes, increased money unemployment allowances and a certain amount of shoes and clothing. These demands, the German authorities say, are largely inspired by Communist agitators who go from place to place, wherever there is unemployment, organize the men and excite them to trouble.

COBB SEEMS TO HAVE PUT ONE OVER ON WASHINGTON CLUB IN RECENT DEAL

WASHINGTON, April 24.—It is beginning to look very much as if Washington got all the worst of the trade with Detroit, in which it turned over Pitcher Francis for Shortstop Gagnon.

Because Peckinpah had an erratic year at short in 1922 the Nationals sought to be fortified in that position. Owner Griffith sought a promising young shortstop.

Detroit seemed to offer such an individual in Gagnon. Coming direct to Detroit from Holy Cross last June Gagnon was sent to Rochester in the International League, Rigney by his fine work having won the regular berth with the Tigers.

Gagnon had a fine year with Rochester and was pronounced ripe for fast company. Cobb was willing to turn him over, to Washington but insisted on Pitcher Francis in return. Griffith finally consented. Now he thinks he got the worst of it, and Griffith, be it known, has been worsted in few trades.

Gagnon has the ability but has a bad knee. While at college he starred on the gridiron as well as diamond. An injured knee, sustained in a game with Harvard, seems to be seriously handicapping his career as a big leaguer.

Fortunately Peckinpah looks to be set for a big year at short.

Most Important Testimony In Case Against Radical

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 24.—The keynote of the state of Michigan's case against Charles E. Ruthenberg—the program and constitution of the Communist Party in America, was read this afternoon to the jury trying Ruthenberg on charges of criminal syndicalism, after all efforts of the defense to keep it out had failed. The 12 men in the jury box, with printed copies of the document in their hands, followed closely as O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan and Charles W. Gore, prosecuting attorney of Berrien County, took turns reading it into the record.

"Mass action, the program says, 'leading to direct conclusion with the bourgeoisie state' has been 'forced on the proletariat by the revolutionary epoch in which the world has now entered.'"

"The Communist Party," it continues, 'will systematically and persistently incite the idea of the inevitability of the necessity for violent revolution and will prepare the workers for armed insurrection as the only means of overthrowing the capitalist state.'"

It is on this program that the state depends to prove the nature of the gathering at Bridgman, this county, which Ruthenberg attended last August. Francis Morrow, Department of Justice agent, who attended the convention at Bridgman as a delegate, was on the stand all day today linking up the event of the convention, on which the state hopes to convict Ruthenberg.

In his testimony today Morrow told how William Z. Foster, tried three weeks ago, left the convention early on Sunday, August, after two Department of Justice agents from Chicago had been seen spying on the meeting by a nearby hill. Monday, the witness continued, the leaders decided to break up the convention and try and get the delegates away before they expected rail materialized.

That night, the witness said, automobiles were pressed into service and the work of transferring the delegates to St. Joseph 12 miles away began. When the delegates retired they were ordered to keep their clothes on and have their bags packed, ready to leave at a moment's notice. As a result only 17 of the 76 in attendance at the convention were on hand when Sheriff George Bridgman and a posse arrived Tuesday morning.

The reading of the Communist program completed Morrow's direct examination and Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Ruthenberg, took up the cross examination. Success of the prosecution in getting copies of the Communist program into the hands of the jury has paved the way for sending the document to the jury room when the jurors retire.

MILTON NOBLES GIVEN RESPITE

(By The Associated Press)
RALEIGH, April 24.—Within 45 minutes of the time he was to die in the electric chair at the state prison, Daniel Milton Nobles, convicted in Columbus county of the murder of Henry Nobles, his second cousin, today was granted a respite of 60 days by Governor Cameron Morrison. The respite was granted on recommendation of R. S. Sylvester Betts and two other churchmen in order that the governor can look further into the case. The churchmen are convinced of the man's innocence and made an early morning appeal to the executive. Nobles has protested his innocence. Recently Rev. Mr. Betts was with Nobles when word came of the respite.

Nobles fell to his knees and offered a beautiful prayer for the governor. Everything was ready for the execution at the prison when the telephone rang in Warden Berkeley's office and the governor advised that Nobles would not die today. The crowd of witnesses had already gathered in the gas awaiting the signal for them to enter the death chamber. At the trial of Nobles the dead man's daughter testified he saw the defendant kill her father from ambush. Other evidence showed that Nobles had declared he would kill his cousin if it took him one hundred years. Later Nobles moved to Florida but came back and while in the county, Henry Nobles was shot. The convicted man said he was at the home of Jennings Nobles on the night of the shooting.

Sheik or Business Man—Which?

By NORRIS QUINN
(Special to The Bee)

CLEVELAND, April 25.—What type of men do American women love?—not with the love that impels them merely to marry, but with the deep devotion that leads them to risk all, to defy convention, to court public censure?

Do they turn to the "sheik"—youthful, slender, faultlessly tailored in his attire, oiled of hair, short on money but long on romance? Or do they give their affection to the middle-aged man of affairs, whom good living has made a little stout about the waistband, whose features time has denuded of handsomeness, whose youthful sense of romance one or two "misunderstanding wives" have dimmed—but whose purse and checkbook stand up under the most rigorous demands?

Of these two types, which would the average American woman choose? Which would you choose?

Writing from Los Angeles, Jack Jungeneier, motion picture observer for The Bee, says American women are turning their love from the prosaic American type and bestowing it on the Latin type—of the type of the late Valentino's vogue among the flappers.

Still another motion-picture writer says that Valentino is a standing challenge to every American businessman husband and bestowing it on the Latin type—of the type of the late Valentino's vogue among the flappers.

Five men have recently been in the public eye as figures in spectacular love cases and not one of them can be called a "sheik" nor does one of them approach the Latin type. The first of these is the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, New Brunswick (N. J.) pastor, found shot to death in a park near the body of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, his organist, a woman of romantic bend, who in fervid letters to the rector had told him of her love for him.

The Rev. Hall was fat—he was pudgy. He dressed always in sober attire. His spectacles, his love letters showed his literary background was a theological one, not one of love poems. He was just an ordinary, middle-aged, well-to-do colorless man.

No one ever regarded J. Kearsley Mitchell, the Philadelphia millionaire, as the sort of a man to whom the romantic would appeal, until the murder of Dorothy King, the New York model.

To his friends and associates, Mitchell had seemed just a kindly disposed, middle-aged man, a man of the waistline, with the good fortune to be blessed with plenty of money, a fine family and an enviable social position.

But the authorities, investigating the Dorothy King case, came to the conclusion that the woman had been killed by someone who tried to obtain from her a letter which Mitchell had written her. This letter, the authorities said, was wanted for blackmail. On behalf of Mitchell, it was denied that he had more than a casual acquaintance with the girl.

Then there's James A. Stillman. Testimony at his wife's divorce proceedings—which were successful—alleged that for years Stillman, a bank president, had held the love of a stage beauty, whose charms would easily have permitted her to make a creditable marriage.

Stillman was bald-headed, wore eyeglasses and was an ordinary American business type. He could tell you the closing price of any bond on the New York market but he was not as fluent at quoting love verses.

Jake Hamon was another. Clara Smith laid her love on him—and finally shot him because she feared she'd lose him. Hamon had the most attractive features of the five men under discussion, but he was a business man, better versed in oil and politics than in the arts of amour.

And there's nothing sheik-like about Bill Hart—he's famed in the movies as a two-gunned man's man. His features are rugged, not handsome.

Yet while Hart's wife, Winifred Weaver, is suing him for divorce, a Boston schoolteacher asks the Los Angeles prosecutor to get "justice" for her child, of which she says Hart is the father. This Hart denies, as does his wife.

What's the answer? Have girls turned their allegiance from the American business man type? And if a young man wants to gain devoted love, should he buy jazz clothes or save his money till he gets a million?

Further Evidence Of Irregularity In the Marriages

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 24.—Further evidence of irregularity in the group marriage last week of 13 couples at the House of David was uncovered today in the grand jury investigation charges of immorality in "King" Benjamin Purnell's Israelite colony, according to reports from the grand jury room.

Three sisters, of whom at least one's age was said to have been misrepresented in order to obtain the marriage license, testified it was reported, that their mother, Mrs. Louise Drake, could neither read nor write although what purports to be her written signature appears on the parents' affidavit of consent attached to the license application.

Another discovery by Judge Harry Dingmann, of Detroit, the one-man judge, was the several of the license applications bore the name of the bridegroom written on a typewriter and the typewritten word "Miss" followed by a blank in which the prospective bride's name was filled in with a pen.

As former girl members of the cult have frequently charged in court actions that it was customary at the group marriages which have preceded other religious and federal investigations to draw lots of husbands, the grand jury inquiry will delve into the possibility that some similar system may have been followed this time.

Six of the young brides and grooms filed through the grand jury room today and were questioned by Attorney General Daugherty, Assistant Attorney General Homer Quay and George Book Walter, assistant prosecuting attorney of Berrien County. Two were examined yesterday, leaving 20 of the 28 yet to be heard.

That the present investigation is not to be limited to the one theme of the alleged immorality but is bent on uncovering anything that may be material to the pending quo warranto proceedings filed by the state to disband the sect, was indicated today when it was reported that the grand jury was questioning the masculine witnesses about reports that the colony had married 15 young men during the war to provide them with dependents before they registered under the selective draft.

(By The Associated Press)
LANSING, Mich., April 24.—Wearing of masks in public by organizations is prohibited in a bill passed by the Michigan House of Representatives today by a vote of 76 to 2.

The measure was introduced by Representative James A. Murns, of Detroit and was said by its sponsors to be aimed at the Ku Klux Klan and similar organizations. It now goes to the Senate.

MASCART WINS TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT OVER MATTHEWS

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, April 24.—The French bantamweight Mascart, tonight technically knocked out Billy Matthews in the sixteenth round of what was to have been a 20 round bout.

The French boy, who during the past six months has been conceded a "comer," won almost all the way tonight. He badly punished the Englishman and the referee stepped between them in the 16th round when Matthews was helpless. Matthews last December was knocked out by Eugene Criqui in the 17th round.

Tonight the Englishman held the Frenchman even in the second, third and fourth rounds but in the other sessions Mascart was his master. After the tenth round Matthews was merely a punching bag for his youthful opponent.

SUGAR FUTURES

WRIT HEARING

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 24.—The hearing on the government's application for a temporary injunction restraining the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange from further trading in raw sugar futures, unless backed by actual ownership or control of the commodity, will be heard here before the four judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals next Monday. United States District Attorney Hayward announced today. Mr. Hayward said that he had filed a certificate under the enabling statute, applicable to the Sherman law cases which would make the United States Court of Appeals the original court of jurisdiction in the case and from which appeal could be taken directly to the United States Supreme Court.

Jury Completed In Morse Trial Which Has Begun

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Completion of the jury and the beginning of the oral presentation of the government's case by District Attorney Gordon marked the trial today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court of Charles M. Morse, his three sons and four others, charged in indictments returned more than a year ago with a conspiracy to defraud the federal government on connection with ship construction and in operating contracts awarded during and after the war.

With eleven men in the box when court convened, little difficulty was had in selecting the 12th juror, only one talemansman being examined. The jury is composed of seven salesmen, two cashiers, one hotel proprietor, 1 clerk and one collector. The jury was not locked up, but was given the customary warning by Justice Stafford against discussing the case with outsiders or reading newspaper accounts of it.

District Attorney Gordon had not completed an explanation of the indictments at the adjournment of court and will resume that task tomorrow. It may be that the actual taking of testimony will not be started before Thursday, although the government witnesses in court today were directed to report tomorrow.

Approximately $40,000,000 was involved in the four ship construction and two ship operating contracts awarded by the Emergency Fleet Corporation and the Shipping Board to the Groton Iron Works of Groton, Conn., the Virginia Ship Building Corporation and the United States Transport Company Inc. The government will undertake to establish by means of several hundred witnesses that the defendants conspired together to defraud the government out of large sums of money and material through false statements as to the conditions of these companies, and other methods.

On the other hand, the defendants will seek to show through high present and former government officials and others that there was no attempt to defraud the government through a conspiracy or any other means. The counsel also said that there will be an effort to establish that any court action by the government should have been confined to a civil suit seeking an accounting as between the three corporations and the Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Beside Charles W. Morse, defendant in the case are Benjamin W. Morse, Erwin A. Morse and Harry F. Morse and N. H. Campbell of New York, assistant treasury of the transport company; Rupert M. Much of Augusta, Maine, assistant treasury of the Virginia Ship Building Corporation; Phillips Reinhardt, former auditor of Alexandria, Va., of the Emergency Fleet Corporation and Robert O. White of New York, president of the transport company and assistant treasurer of the Groton Iron Works.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 24.—The two Downing bills repealing the Lusk anti-education laws were passed by the Assembly late today by a vote of 77 to 70. The bills after a successful trip through the Senate failed of passage in the lower House more than a week ago. Today upon a motion to reconsider the vote by which they were lost, the repealers were taken from the table and passed.

Eight Republicans joined the solid Democratic minority in supporting these repealers. One of the measures repealed required private schools to be licensed and the other imposed a loyalty test for public school teachers.

TOMBSTONE CRUSHES BOX, NINE TO DEATH

NEW YORK, April 23.—A tombstone, which fell from a high stone pedestal, killed Charles Summer, nine, and narrowly missed fatally crushing his Sunday-school companion, Lawrence Featherston, ten, yesterday. The boys were returning from class at St. Catherine's Catholic Church and stopped to play in the stoneyard adjoining a tombstone works. A huge piece of granite, rough hewn as a head stone and standing upon a pedestal four feet high, fell while the boys were romping about the base and crushed the Summer boy. Two passersby, attracted by the other boy's screams, raised the heavy weight. An ambulance surgeon found the lad dead of a fractured skull.

Can Labor Run Banks and Mills?

IRVING T. BUSH

WHAT CAPITAL THINKS

BY IRVING T. BUSH
President, Chamber of Commerce of Danville

VENTURES of labor into the field of capital are a good thing for our economic future.

Anything is good that gives one group a viewpoint of the other fellow's business. Labor and capital have much to learn about each other's business, and they can learn it best by experience.

Labor needs a headache and capital a headache before each will understand the other.

Capital has no cause for alarm in the growing tendency of labor to enter banking and industry. Labor ought to have a try at the game of running banks and factories, going into manufacturing and shipping.

Some are going to succeed and some will undoubtedly fail. Labor will find that capital's game is not so easy as it looks. Especially banking, where safety and care and caution are necessary, where difficulties multiply and pressure often is heart-breaking.

My father had an axiom: People make money in their own business, and lose it in the other fellow's business.

Labor may lose some money trying to compete with capital, but it will be healthy experience and training. Ultimately the baptism will probably do everybody some good.

A new and an intimate viewpoint of the other fellow's trials and problems and methods and manner of thinking will destroy the envy and bitterness and jealousy that cause so much of the trouble between labor and capital. A better understanding will do both sides much good.

If labor is prepared to stand a few hard knocks, the experience will be worth something. One of the things they will have to take into account is that 80 per cent or so of all new enterprises fail at first, and then they go into capital's field they will have to take their chances with the law of averages—not to speak of normal competition.

The war vapor is still round us fogging viewpoints. It may be 15 or 20 years before we reach perfect normality. Not that we haven't got prosperity now, but prices are out of gear and we need time and the rest that it brings to work things back to the right level.

Labor may contribute valuably toward this readjustment by its experiments in the other fellow's field. Ordinarily the average machinist, for example, can't step right in and run a bank, any more than a banker can step right in and operate a machine skilfully, even though he might in time or any more than a day laborer digging ditches can come in and run the machine. Experience, however, is a marvelous stabilizer.

BY EDWARD THIERRY (Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, April 25.—The sharp line of division that always has been a boundary, and often a bulwark, between capital and labor is vanishing fast. It is eventually going to disappear completely.

Trade unions are going into capitalist enterprises. Labor banks are springing up all over the country. The field of co-operative industry is being entered.

Eighty-one different trades are represented in the unions that have bought half a million dollars worth of stock in New York's new Federation Bank. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers, outside the American Federation of Labor, have just started a bank in New York. In Cleveland the bank established by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is a two-year success; a skyscraper now is planned to house it; and the Engineers have bought stock in a big New York bank. Trade unionists now operate banks in New York, Indiana, Ohio, Alabama, California, Minnesota, Illinois, District of Columbia, Missouri, Montana, Arizona, Pennsylvania and Washington. Many others are to be established.

The Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association No. 33 has offered $300,000 cash to the government for three Shipping Board vessels with the intention of going into the shipping business.

The United Hatters of North America have announced that they will operate a hat factory in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America plans a co-operative plant to manufacture soft drinks.

What labor thinks and what capital thinks about this growing trend are matters, undoubtedly, of widely diverse views. The Daily News Service, through the opinion of two leaders in the different fields as a gauge below are printed the views of Irving T. Bush, financier, builder of railroad and shipping terminals and skyscrapers, and president of the Chamber of Commerce of New York state, and of William F. Kehoe, secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Council, which includes the A. F. of L. unions of New York City.

WILLIAM F. KEHOE

WHAT LABOR THINKS

BY WILLIAM F. KEHOE
Secretary, Central Trades and Labor Council, New York.

LABOR is entering into banking and into other fields of industrial enterprise because we are compelled to do so by those who are opposed to union labor organization.

We are competing with capital not because we have an exaggerated idea of our abilities, that we can run finance and industry better than capital can, but because we think we can do so well enough to destroy the monopoly that practically makes it impossible for even the fair-minded business man to deal fairly with labor.

Most of our co-operative movements are in the experimental stage. But we feel certain that they will develop with rapid success, and make us more independent in dealing with the two schools of capital, those fair and those unfair toward us.

A dozen or more banks are already being run by labor, and two dozen more are soon to be established. The most notable success is the Engineers' bank in Cleveland. All the unions of the American Federation of Labor in New York are interested in the Federation Bank which will open in May. We hope to make it the clearing house for all the labor banks of the country which must have a New York connection.

Two reasons impelled labor to enter the banking field. The first is that the investigation of the open shop showed that some banks were financing the opposition, using our own money to fight us. We feel it is better to run our own banks.

The second reason is that labor wants a bank that is run for service and not for profit that will share its surplus with its depositors. To illustrate our potential strength, we have 750,000 union men in New York alone upon whom we can depend for capital and deposits in the Federation Bank.

Labor also is entering industry for co-operative factory management, and one union plans to buy government vessels and enter the shipping business. We feel that we can run these business economically, and we will be especially strengthened in this by the fact that we will have no capital-labor disputes to make trouble.

In all these enterprises we feel that we have the co-operation of the farmers. Thirty per cent of the farmers in America last year lost their land through the lack of domestic consumption that can be traced to the fact that labor was not paid sufficiently and work was not steady enough to enable labor to consume what the farmers produced.

The next step in this alliance undoubtedly will be co-operative societies established by labor and agriculture jointly.

Blind Man's Buff

Even in this age of enlightenment some folks spend their money blindly. They buy with their eyes shut. They group in the dark as truly as if their eyes were bandaged.

And all the time a powerful light is being thrown on the very things they need and want!

Advertising is a beacon to guide you in buying. It shows you what to buy—where to buy—and when to buy. At the same time, it protects you against fraud and inferiority.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise deliberately focus thousands of eyes upon their wares. Their values must be honest and their prices right, or they could not advertise successfully.

Don't play blind man's buff with the elusive dollar. Spend a few minutes each day running through the advertisements in this paper. Then buy the products that have proved up in the light of advertising.

JUNE MADNESS LATEST VIOLA DANA PLAY

Viola Dana's popularity grows and grows with each new production showing the little Metro comedienne going through the plot with her characteristic nerve and charm. Her latest picture is "June Madness," directed by Harry Beaumont, showing at the Broadway Theatre today.

In this picture Miss Dana is seen as a modern young miss who goes to the altar in uncertainty and trepidation to marry Mamma's wealthy choice. A combination of circumstances at the church provide her with the inspiration to effect a spectacular getaway just as the ceremony is about to be the knot.

It is a scene which will go to the heart of any modern young miss—the bridegroom left at the post, and the bride making her escape in a runaway. Of course, he isn't a very fascinating bridegroom—not half so fascinating as the young fellow, played by Bryant Washburn, who passes along in his role as the opportunist, which is unexpected. Her rescuer has his troubles with Clutie, too. She is decidedly not the sort of miss for self-assured young men. As played by Clutie.

Miss Dana, with the added attraction of modish gowns and spectacular dancing novelties, "June Madness" is the sort of madness which looks very well on the screen. (Crosby George wrote and Harry Beaumont adapted "June Madness"—adv.)

ROCKY MOUNT NEWS

ROCKY MOUNT, Va., April 24.—The track meet of the Franklin county schools was held Saturday, April 21, on the Rocky Mount base ball grounds. There was a good attendance, and a good record made by the schools through the entire day. Much improvement was shown over the last year's track meet, owing to the contestants being better fitted. The Rocky Mount school made a special good showing in the running broad jump, 18 feet 2 inches; and in the standing broad jump, 8 feet 10 inches. Mountain View school near Boone Mill, a two room school, made an excellent record, Cyrus Bowman representing this school took 3 first places, and 2 second places. Akers of Callaway took 4 first places.

The most spectacular feature of the day, was the competitive drill by the Callaway school. The Silver Loving Cup for winning the most points during the day, Callaway—93; Boone Mill—65; Glade Hill—95; and Mountain View 65.

Judges were Mayor A. B. Garrett, Rev. Arthur Wake, J. B. Markham, Mattox and Walter Brown, Timmer—Brown and Mattox, Stantier—H. Pullman of Roanoke.

The Callaway school was much elevated over the victory. They were proud of the way their representatives conducted themselves in showing clean sportsman like play, as did all the schools did who were entered. It is the hope that this can be made an annual event of the schools, and every school of the country to enter and will draw a larger crowd each year.

Mr. Giles Hughes McNeil died Saturday, at his home near Rocky Mount, at the age of 80 years. He was the son of the late Mr. Jonathan Patterson McNeil and Mrs. McNeil who was before her marriage Miss Kitty Perdue, and was a life resident of this county, a brave Confederate veteran, having served through the entire Confederate War, a prosperous farmer, and a member of the Methodist church.

He is survived by his widow, and the following children: Mrs. Walter Chittwood, Mrs. Zeb, Davis, Mrs. Cat Wray, and Messrs W. Gray, Oley of this county and William of Roanoke, and a large circle of friends.

Interment Sunday in the family cemetery, near Blaine, services conducted by his pastor, the Rev. J. W. Wimbush, assisted by the Rev. C. K. Hobbs of the Baptist church.

Sad news have been received in Rocky Mount of the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall Jamison of near Henry, only 33 hours difference in their deaths, both dying with double pneumonia, Mrs. Jamison Friday, and Mr. Jamison Saturday.

Mrs. Jamison was formerly Miss Sallie Sims of Floyd County, and a sister of Mr. J. A. Sims of Rocky Mount, and 72 years of age, and Mr. Jamison 68 years of age. They were both consistent members of the Primitive Baptist church. They are survived by five children: Mrs. W. A. Scott of Sydneyville, Mr. L. E. Jamison of South Carolina, Mr. Lee Jamison of near Henry; Mrs. Dudley Hundley of Fifeville, and Mrs. Thomas Finney of Sydneyville.

Interment in the family burying ground near the home, services were conducted by the Rev. Randolph Perdue, and the Rev. George W. Dyer, Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of friends.

On Thursday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock, Mrs. E. Webb was entertaining hosts at a most enjoyable progressive Rook party, in her home on Main street. The entire lower floor of the home was artistically decorated with Spring flowers and potted plants; while, yellow and green being the color scheme. Tables were engaged in playing, and after a number of enthusiastic games a delectable salad course, brim ice-cream, cake and mints were served.

Mrs. F. H. Watkins left today for Farmville, to visit her mother, Mrs. D. W. Martin, for two weeks.

Mrs. H. T. Webb with her daughter, Miss Addie Webb also left today for Farmville to visit Mrs. W. D. Martin.

Mrs. Janie Price of Norfolk has arrived, and is the house guest of Mrs. Maggie Ferguson, on South Main street.

Mrs. Sallie Young of Roanoke, is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. N. T. Angle, on Clubhouse avenue.

Mrs. B. L. Fisher who has been at Hot Springs, Ark., for the past two months, has returned to Rocky Mount.

Mrs. W. M. White with her children, Mollie and Elmer were the week end guests of her sister, Mrs. B. D. Balwin, in Roanoke.

Miss Katie Angle, a student at Randolph-Macon Institute, Danville, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Angle, on Hotel Drive.

Miss Claiborne Dillar had Miss Edith Jones of Martinsville for her week end guest.

Miss Sadie Dooley of Bedford visited Misses Garret and Ruby Morris, for the week end.

Prof. Word D. Peak, of Chatham, visited his parents, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mattie Smithers who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Fulton, in Florence, S. C., for the winter months, has returned.

Friend golfer is decidedly in error. A player has a perfect right to lift the ball and drop it into a hole, if he can do so without making a stroke. This is a common practice, even among the leading players of the country.

If a player's ball is at rest on the fairway, and his opponent's ball strikes it and deflects it into a hole, the course, what is the proper course to pursue? Must the ball be played from the hole, or has the player the right to lift and drop the ball without penalty? This happened in a match game between two bitter rivals and a serious argument arose, as to the proper procedure.

In match play, it is permissible to lift the ball and drop it without penalty, at the spot where it lay when deflected. In medal play the moved ball must be replaced before being played.

Wedded 57 Years, Pair United in Death.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Adam Drumm died a little more than a day apart after fifty-seven years of life together in their cottage here. Mrs. Drumm, eighty, died Saturday from a heart attack, and the husband, eighty-five, died this morning, broken by grief.

From the day of their marriage in 1856, Mr. and Mrs. Drumm lived in the house where they died. Despite their children's efforts to interest them in modern developments, the place was not changed since they entered it as bride and bridegroom. They preferred not to install gas or electricity, and neither were they attracted by automobiles, phonographs or other manifestations of the new generation.

—Commissioner of Revenue T. G. Ragland who has been ill at his home on Holbrook street for several days, is better and is able to be at his office again.

Kinks o' the Kinks

My caddie is an excellent player, always showing a card between 70 and 80. Being a novice at the game, I am often perplexed as to the way to make certain shots. The caddie is a very intelligent chap and has a clever way of imparting his knowledge. A keen golfing rivalry exists between myself and a very close friend. In several matches I have consulted with my caddie over certain shots, and profited greatly thereby. My friend claims I have no such right.

Friend golfer is decidedly in error. A player has a perfect right to lift the ball and drop it into a hole, if he can do so without making a stroke. This is a common practice, even among the leading players of the country.

If a player's ball is at rest on the fairway, and his opponent's ball strikes it and deflects it into a hole, the course, what is the proper course to pursue? Must the ball be played from the hole, or has the player the right to lift and drop the ball without penalty? This happened in a match game between two bitter rivals and a serious argument arose, as to the proper procedure.

In match play, it is permissible to lift the ball and drop it without penalty, at the spot where it lay when deflected. In medal play the moved ball must be replaced before being played.

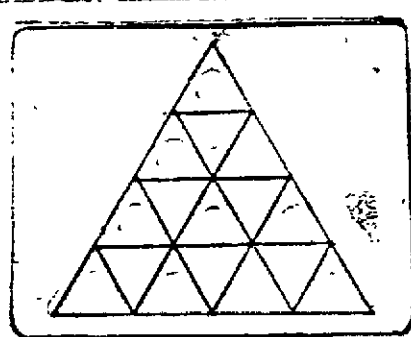

Wedded 57 Years, Pair United in Death.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Adam Drumm died a little more than a day apart after fifty-seven years of life together in their cottage here. Mrs. Drumm, eighty, died Saturday from a heart attack, and the husband, eighty-five, died this morning, broken by grief.

From the day of their marriage in 1856, Mr. and Mrs. Drumm lived in the house where they died. Despite their children's efforts to interest them in modern developments, the place was not changed since they entered it as bride and bridegroom. They preferred not to install gas or electricity, and neither were they attracted by automobiles, phonographs or other manifestations of the new generation.

A Puzzle a Day

The mystic triangle shown above is made by certain numbers to have been inscribed upon the mummy case of an Egyptian pharaoh. It is supposed to be the mystic sign of the Egyptian deities, Isis, Osiris and Thoth. This triangle is equilateral, and contains 16 smaller equilateral triangles. The most remarkable thing about it, however, is the fact that the design may be drawn in one continuous line, without lifting the pencil from the paper, and without going over any line twice. Can you solve the problem?

Three sixes can be made into the number seven by writing them as shown above, so they represent six and sixths. As six-sixths is one, the number therefore represents seven.

STOCK MARKET.
(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 25.—Publication of the favorable quarterly report of the steel corporation gave strength to the stock market. United States steel opened a point higher, while Schless-Schleif and Bethlehem made a similar gain, oils being also higher.

POWER

is absolutely necessary to make a machine run. If something prevents a machine from getting sufficient power, it cannot do its work properly. The human machine gets its life power from the brain, from which it is dispatched through the spinal cord over the nervous system to every cell in the body. If the lungs, heart, stomach, kidneys, liver, etc., or any part is weakened or not working right, something somewhere is cutting off some of the power.

IN MOST ALL CASES THIS POWER IS WEAK BECAUSE OF PRESSURE ON A NERVE WHERE IT LEAVES THE SPINE.

Chiropactic Adjustments remove this pressure and the power runs through. Let us explain more fully how. Consultation and Analysis always FREE. Bring all your health troubles to D. L. RAGLAND, CHIROPRACTOR, Danville, Va.

ON A SUMMER NIGHT.

It's sweet to lie in bed all night,
And hear the soft wind sing and sigh
At play among the feathery trees,
Twisting their crumpled leaves awry.

And sweet it is to hear at night
The steady patter of the rain
Play merrily upon the roof,
And splash against the window pane.

But sweeter far than any sound
Of murmuring wind and gentle rain,
Of branches tossed about on high,
And splashes on the window pane
Is the breathing of a little child
That nestles up so close to me,
In peaceful, calm, untroubled sleep,
And heaven-born security.
